

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Professional Development

This course is specifically designed for you to increase your value to the aviation community. GLOBALJET has created the next level in leadership training that once again raises the standard in aviation.

Aviation professionals must continually build on their skills and knowledge in leadership, career enhancement, finances, all forms of communication, personnel and project management, as well as many other areas of the business. Our Aviation Interpersonal Management (AIM) 2.0 course will provide all of the necessary knowledge and techniques to help you reach new heights in a leadership role within your organization.

AIM 2.0 is an essential course for leadership professionals and others with aspirations to advance in their aviation careers.

(Our original 5-day AIM class is highly recommended for attending.)
